

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-lives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine
Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous System and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Hinecock was.

SAULT STE MARIE, ONT.
"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family."

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.
Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and inflames the nerves. "Fruit-a-lives" stimulates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the stomach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.
In a word, "Fruit-a-lives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or a disordered condition of the nervous system.

IRISH QUESTION IS AT ANOTHER CRITICAL STAGE

Did Not Know Debate Would Come Until Settlement Was Closer.

Dublin, October 27.—The constitution of the Sinn Féin meeting in convention was amended to the effect that the Sinn Féin hereafter will give its undivided allegiance and entire support to the Dail Eireann, as the "fully elected parliament of Ireland." Eamon De Valera was unanimously chosen president, and Harry J. Boland, one of the honorary secretaries.

London, October 27.—The announcement of Mr. Lloyd George today that next Monday had been allocated by the government for a discussion in the House of Commons on the pending motion of Unionist members, censuring the government for conducting the present Irish negotiations, was taken as bringing the Irish issue to another critical stage. The announcement came as a surprise to the Sinn Féin delegates in London, who indicated tonight they had expected that parliament would not be consulted until there was a nearer approach to an agreement than hitherto had been possible. They have negotiated with Mr. Lloyd George, believing him to be in a position to strike a binding bargain, and they expressed apprehension over the possibility that the forthcoming debate might enable him to modify his proposals.

TERMS MAY BE LESSENED
Their view tonight was that nothing likely to happen in the House of Commons could better the terms obtainable by Sinn Féin, but that, on the contrary, the debate might easily lessen these terms.

The Sinn Féin delegates appear to be suspicious that the premier has been faced with trouble in his own party and that he thinks a debate in the House would be the best way of obtaining for himself a certain majority. Ulster is understood to present his chief difficulty, since he has pledged himself not to reduce the importance of the position of the northern parliament. He has been pressed from the start by the Sinn Féin delegates to rip up the Home Rule act and re-open the Ulster question. On the other hand, Mr. Lloyd George is urged by many Unionists, even those who approve his recent offer of dominion status to Ireland, to permit the northern parliament to function. Although opened formally by King George, it still has no real power and, lacking funds, it cannot exercise most of the powers granted it. Although it was given large administrative powers within its area, it still is administered from Dublin castle and its leaders are constantly denouncing officials there, particularly Arthur Cotter, assistant under-secretary for Ireland, as allies of Sinn Féin.

PREMIER RISKS BREAK
If Mr. Lloyd George assents to facilitating the powers of the northern parliament, he risks a break in the negotiations with Sinn Féin. Yet there is a powerful feeling in his own party in favor of leaving Ulster what she has. Until after Monday's debate the conference with Sinn Féin delegates will continue in more or less suspended animation, but both sides tonight expressed the view that the debate in Commons may kill it.

PREMIER MEIGHEN NOT CHALLENGING LOYALTY OF WEST

They, However, Have Little Regard for Conditions of Industry.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., October 27.—Speaking to an audience of about 2,500 persons in the rink here last night, Premier Meighen dealt with a charge which he declared had been made against him by Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressives.
"Mr. Crerar says that I have charged the western farmers with disloyalty," said the premier, "and he stands in righteous indignation on behalf of the west to defend them against this awful imputation. When Mr. Crerar recently what I say, he usually invents what I say first. I never uttered the word disloyalty. I never challenged their loyalty, but I say that not only those people but—and more to his discredit—Mr. Crerar himself, have very little regard for the conditions of industrial Canada, very little interest and concern."

The premier went on to quote Mr. Crerar as stating "if we cannot make shoes as cheaply in Canada as in the United States, then we have reached the time in Canada when we should be making shoes."

SHOWS LITTLE CONCERN

This statement, declared the premier, showed very little concern for the works of industrial Canada. Mr. Crerar was in the position of every recent immigrant to this country, "but the position is far less creditable to him. If his policy was carried out we would have no industrial Canada today, but would simply be a supply depot to the United States," declared the premier.

MEANS PROSPERITY

Hon. Mr. Manion said that he was supporting Mr. Meighen because the prime minister's policy was the only one which meant peace and prosperity to Canada.
Mr. Crerar, said Mr. Manion, was representing a selfish class interest in the west.

FIVE PERSONS DEAD AS RESULT OF STORM

Tampa, Fla., October 27.—Five persons are known to be dead in this city and 24 persons injured as a result of yesterday's storm, which caused a local property damage estimated between one and two million dollars.

Sunset Beach, a popular resort of Tampa, was almost completely destroyed. Small houses were torn down and washed away and the white sands of the beach now show a vast expanse of ever having been inhabited. The damage in the city proper was for the most part confined to the unroofed of houses. A warehouse occupied by the Gulf and Southern Steamship Company, however, was destroyed, as was part of the Mallory line docks.

C.N.R. ENGINEER EARNED $6,000 IN 11 MONTHS

Comparison of Wages Paid Now and Before Reduction Made at Arbitration Board.

Ottawa, October 28.—Comparison of wages being paid at present and previous to the reduction on the Canadian National railway rates, which was paid in different cities of Canada as well as on the other railways, took up most of this afternoon's session of the Canadian National railway arbitration board. Figures were given by both employer and employees' delegates to show how C.N.R. men were faring in matters of pay.

F. P. Brady, for the company, cited an outstanding case of the oldest engineer on the Halifax and South-western railway, who had been allowed to choose his own run. In the course of a year, with overtime, this engineer had managed to take a full month's holiday and still collect pay checks amounting to $5,000 for running his engine over a short line. Mr. Brady claimed that the wages were more satisfactory than the high wages which employees had been receiving. There had been a number of men getting more money through overtime than they made by their full rate.

A witness from the Canadian Pacific railway is expected to be on hand at tomorrow's sittings of the board to give evidence with respect to wages paid on that system to employees of similar grades to those affected by the present arbitration proceedings.

Today's sittings will, it is expected, practically conclude the board's public hearings.

FORMING GOOD READING HABITS

If parents wish their children to form good reading habits they must first form such habits themselves. And there is no better way to do this than to bring into the home a periodical that will be of interest to every member of it; that will supply the best reading material for all young members of the family. Among the periodicals of this description The Youth's Companion is unique. Not only does it aim to entertain and inform boys and girls in their teens, as its name suggests, but there is not a page in it that parents can pass over with indifference.

The 52 issues of 1922 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:
1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1922.
All the remaining issues of 1921.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1922.
All for $2.50.
4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

DUST

Sir Frederick Stupart, Canadian meteorologist, is authority for the statement that over a period of time, say 2,000 years, there is little or no change in the world's weather conditions.

What seems to be local changes are only for a comparatively short time, and there is always a swing back to climatic standards.
"If this theory is correct, there is reason to hope that the increasing volume of wind that has been in evidence in this part of the world during the past year or two is but a passing phase and does not indicate that a permanent blow has come upon us. There have been times when one has been tempted to believe that the central Alberta climate has been changing and in this respect for the worse, but even a stiff wind can be taken philosophically if it doesn't last too long."

Still, twenty centuries or any considerable part of them is too long a time to wait for the climate to swing back to normal again, and in the meantime it would be a great contrivance to public comfort hereabouts if the streets and sidewalks could be wind proofed. An application of oil on the unpaved streets each spring and at fairly long intervals thereafter would be an innovation that would abundantly justify the cost, and some sort of hinder on the cinder walks would be nothing short of a public boon. It wouldn't matter quite so much then if the weather was more or less windy. As it is now, it matters tremendously.—Journal.

Comfortable Things For THE COOL CRISP WEATHER

It gives one a comfortable thrill just to walk through the store now and see the multitude of things that are shown everywhere to make one enjoy the colder days that are so inspiring and healthful.

Comfortable clothing, that is as handsome as it is protective, in abundance for the men, the women and the children.

Warm, cozy bed coverings that make one enjoy the blowing of the vigorous winds through the bedroom windows.

It is gratifying to have all these things so abundantly provided and marked at prices so much lower than they have been in past seasons.

Another gratifying thought too is that every article you buy, at this critical time, will help the revival of prosperity for the workers of the nation. Therefore, when you provide both the necessities and the comforts you desire for yourself, you make it possible for the workers somewhere else to secure these same things for themselves, which otherwise it would be impossible for them to enjoy.

Unbiased Election News for Members of All Parties

To become acquainted with every phase of the Election Campaign in all parts of the Dominion, and secure at the same time full details of the campaign in your own riding, you must be a reader of the

Edmonton Journal

The political pot is simmering. In a week or two it will be boiling. The three great parties already have thrown their hats into the ring. Nominating conventions are being held all over the country.

The leaders of the three parties and their supporters are addressing meetings everywhere. They are discussing political questions in a way that they have never been discussed before. The voters themselves are also taking a hand. They are asking questions, and making speeches, and taking a very intelligent interest in the campaign.

Premier Meighen is giving an account of his stewardship. He is touring the country and addressing mass meetings everywhere, and making important announcements of policy. Mr. Mackenzie King, the leader of the Liberal party, is also making a flying tour of the Dominion, and is attacking the tariff and other policies of the government.

And then there is the new group of farmers, led by Mr. Crerar, who are opposing the two Old Parties in many of the rural and semi-rural ridings.

It is an intensely interesting campaign, and only the more daring are attempting to forecast the result.

The Edmonton Journal

will be in the forefront with a complete Election News Service

Elaborate preparations have been made by The Edmonton Journal to keep its readers informed on the speeches of the leaders and the candidates of all parties, and all the political developments in all parts of Canada.

The Journal will report every phase of the campaign accurately, fully and without a tinge of political bias.

It will be the only complete non-partisan news service supplied to the people of Central and Northern Alberta during the campaign.

GOOD! Because Its Fine Qualities Are Protected by the Sealed Package

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, Friday, October 28

Cattle—First—Calgary has had another fairly large run of cattle and prices firm on beef, with choice steers, $3.85 to $4.25; good, $2.25 to $3.75; medium, $2.75 to $3.25; common, $1.50 to $2.50. Cows, choice, $3 to $3.25; good, $2.50 to $3; medium, $2 to $2.50; common, $1.75 to $2; canners, $1 to $1.50. Bulls are scarce and $1.75 to $2 takes the best. Calves lower, with choice at $3 to $3.50; common, $2.50 to $3; not many light calves. Stockers firm—Choice heavy feeders, $3.49 down; stocker-steers, $2.25 to $2.35. Stocker heifers, $2.25 to $2.35; stock cows, $1 to $2.

Beef lower—Edmonton prices on steers have been dropped a little, owing largely to lack of quality: choice steers, $4 to $4.50; good, $3.25 to $3.75; medium, $2.50 to $3; common, $1.50 to $2. Choice cows, $2.75 to $3.25; good, $2 to $2.50; medium, $1.50 to $2; common, $1 to $1.50; canners from $1 down. Calves lower, with choice, $3 to $3.75; common, $2 to $3. Not many bulls, with tops at $2.

Stockers firm—Heavy feeders, $3.49 down; stocker-steers, $2.25 to $2.35; stocker heifers, $2.25 to $2.35; stock cows, $1 to $2.

Sheep—Calgary prices have been fairly steady during the week, with Wednesday's sales $10.50 to $10.75; Thursday, $10.55 to $10.75; Friday, $10.

Edmonton prices have been fairly steady during the week, with Wednesday's sales $9.50 to $9.75; Thursday, $9.75 to $10; Friday, $9.50.

Another heavy week at Calgary, and prices steady, with lambs, $5.50 to $7.25; feeder lambs, $5 to $5.50; wethers, $4.50 to $5.25; ewes, $2.50 to $4.25; breeding ewes from $4.25 each down.

Sheep—Edmonton prices on sheep have been steady, with lambs from $7 down; wethers, $5.50 down; ewes, $4.50 down.

Grain—Uncertain—No stability has been injected into the grain market during the week, though conditions in exporting seem to be improving, and there are occasional signs of strength, which leads the opinion to hold belief that prices will improve after big rush is over.

Produce—Eggs—Prices increase at Calgary to $11, with choice fresh eggs at a premium over that. Creamery butter, firsts quoted 35c to 38c for coast shipment; seconds out of demand; cantons, 35c to 40c. Dairy butter, demand not as good; fancy table, 25c to 30c; No. 1, 21c to 25c. Cream and milk—Prices unchanged, with cream supply falling off. Poultry—Market prospects poor; fowl, 15c to 18c; chickens, 14c to 16c; ducks, 12c to 15c; geese, 14c to 16c; turkeys, 25c to 30c. Potatoes—No domestic demand and shippers not inclined to reduce, not enough business to make quotations in carlots.

Poultry—Edmonton trade receiving very large quantities and fowl and chickens in good condition; prices declined, with fowl 11c; chickens, 12c; geese, 14c; ducks, 16c; turkeys, 22c. Eggs—Presence of stale eggs in shipments, keeping prices down at Edmonton, still holding at $9; storage stocks selling freely. Cream—Receipts falling off, but prices at creameries still on basis of 34c. Creamery butter—Cantons 41c, basis specials, and carlot price 37c. Cheese steady and trade active.

Hay—Lower—Dealers paying country prices $15 to $21 on timothy, $13 to $15 on upland; $10 to $12 on green feed. No provincial demand; prices may get down to point where competition can be met in southern part of province and B.C.

Wool—Quiet—No change in the eastern markets are reported this week.

Hides—Packer hides still moving in U.S. and tanners now making some inquiries after western brand hides, country take off, but no business developed.

Furs—Trade quiet, and movement of prices will depend on buying attitude of consumers.

A big silver strith is expected from the mine of the Silver Islet Exploration, at Silver Islet, Ont., according to Engineer D. C. Peacock, who arrived in Port William on Friday.

Belief was expressed by London newspapers on Friday that the government would receive a big majority in support of the policies it has followed relative to Ireland, and that the military's hands would be strengthened in dealing with the Sinn Féin representatives.

BRITAIN REACHES OUT TO PROTECT SUBJECTS

Asks Spain To Allow a Representative To Proceed To Morocco.

London, October 27—Great Britain has asked Spain to allow a British representative to proceed to Morocco to make an independent and impartial inquiry into allegations of ill-treatment by Spanish officers of British subjects who have enlisted in the Spanish foreign legion.

This announcement was made in the house of commons yesterday by Cecil Harcourt, under secretary for foreign affairs, in answer to a question by Earl Winterton. The latter asked if the government were aware of the serious allegations made against Spanish military authorities by British subjects, mostly ex-service men, recently enlisted in the Spanish foreign legion, who claim that conditions of pay and security, promised by Spanish consuls here, have not been carried out. Earl Winterton asked further if the government were aware that some of the British who protested were ill-treated, robbed and sent to Gibraltar, and that others who actually joined the legion had been kicked and beaten by Spanish officers.

A number of Canadian ex-service men are included in the British subjects who enlisted for service in Morocco. One vessel that sailed from New York during the past summer with recruits for the Spanish foreign legion carried 33 men who had seen service in the Canadian forces during the war.

FREE TRADE AND TAX SALE

The following article, brimful of good sound common sense, appeared last Friday in the Edmonton Bulletin. We admit we were slightly startled, but we are pleased that at last the Bulletin is seeing a small glimmer of light on this very important question at this time.

"The lists of farm lands which are being put up at tax sales all over this Province are convincing evidence as to what would happen to the farming community of Canada if the tariff were abolished and the tariff Dominion revenue collected by direct levy. By one means or another the Federal treasury has to get revenue amounting to $65 per head per year for every man, woman and child in the country. That is on the average five times the amount the farmer has to pay as municipal and school taxes. If so many are finding it difficult to keep their farms from being sold for school and municipal taxes, how easy is to foresee what would happen if they were called upon to pay in addition a direct Dominion tax even three times as large. Direct Dominion taxation of land would put probably all but a fraction of the farms in Canada on the tax sale list for 1922, and without direct taxation free trade is not possible."

NOT MUCH CHANGE

Showing that much the same condition of things existed a long time ago as far as the general drift of public opinion and displays of human nature are concerned, Daniel Webster, in a speech in the United States senate in 1828, spoke as follows:

"There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression and speculation and the pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations. They mean by which small capitals be put to rest and the production of important and beneficial results. They carry out most heartily against all established institutions and all established institutions. They are the fountain of industry and dry the streams. In a country where property is more evenly divided, anywhere else, they rend the air shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country of unbounded liberty they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly. In a country where the wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer that he is but an oppressed slave."

GOOD WORDS FOR MR. DAY

(Edmonton Journal)

Mr. John P. Day, who is to contest Red Deer as a supporter of the Dominion government, is one of the very best type of western farmers. He came to the North-west territories in 1882 and has been in Alberta since 1902. He knows all the ups and downs of farming, and no one can tell him anything about the problems which the man on the land has to confront. There could be no better farmer's representative in the House of Commons than Mr. Day. The fact that he appeals to the voters, not on the strength of his occupation, but on the broadest grounds of citizenship, should not interfere with the success of his appeal to such a constituency as Red Deer.

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERT RED DEER CHAUTAUQUA

Coming to the Rex Theatre
November 7, 8 and 9

"Music is to the other arts, considered as a whole, what religion is to the church," so said an eminent musician, and what a treat it is to hear good music. We were privileged to hear, at least a little, last Friday evening when the Musical Club held its first concert this season.

Mrs. F. W. Galbraith who occupied the major portion of the programme with two groups of pianoforte solos, revealed to her audience marked interpretative ability and a surprising display of technique. This latter quality was particularly noticeable in her rendering of "Spinning Song," Mendelssohn, "Marche Grottesque," Shostakovich, and "Scherzo-Faust," Moszkowski, while her other two selections, "Lento," Scott, and "Kamenyogostrow," Rubinstein, were skillfully interpreted, which the audience understood more clearly from the fact that Mrs. Galbraith made a few remarks before-hand concerning the various ideas portrayed by the music. Mrs. Galbraith is to be highly complimented on her performance.

We also had the pleasure of listening to Miss Gwen Richards. This young artist possesses a voice of exceeding sweetness, and the well chosen group of songs which Miss Richards gave only made one wish for more, as will be seen from the following: "The Wild Rose," Schubert, "What Little Birdie Says," McKenzie, and "May Day," Baltham. This latter song was one of the 1921 Festival competition numbers. In response to enthusiastic applause, Miss Richards sang "By the Waters of Minnetonka." Leverage, Special mention must be made of her very clear enunciation, a point overlooked to a great extent by many present day vocalists. Miss LeSauter, piano accompanist, was accompanied by Miss Quigg opened the programme by an interesting paper on "The Early History of music."

And so concluded the concert, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

NATIONAL ROADS MAKE PROFIT OF HALF A MILLION

Margin to Good in September Ten Times Greater Than August

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Announcement is made from National Railway headquarters here that the gross earnings of the system in September were more than sufficient to cover the expenses of operation, the margin to the good being slightly over a million dollars, or ten times greater than the August margin.

The figures are: Gross earnings, $11,500,126.24; working expenses, $10,950,551.37; net earnings, $549,574.87.

"The statement relative to the operation of the National Railways Transcontinental; the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern railway."

The statement merely confirms what I said recently that the situation of the Canadian National Railways should not be regarded from the point of view of the railway.

Mr. Hanna had words of praise for the employees all over the system, and said that they were working loyally for the good of the service.

NUMBER OF PROVINCIAL ELECTORS IN JULY

Increase of About One-Third Since Provincial Election in 1917; Farmers Poll Less Than Half Vote

In the provincial election in July, the total vote was 175,880, which is slightly over 50,000 more than the total vote in the provincial election in 1917. It must be remembered, however, that in 1917 there were no elections in 11 ridings where soldiers were candidates, and in this election there were acclamations in two ridings only. However, the increase in the vote is quite considerable.

The vote polled in the Federal election in December, 1917, was 127,818, which is a very high vote when it is remembered that only a small portion of the women voted in that election.

In the 41 ridings in which the Farmers and the Liberals were face to face, the farmers polled 75,534 and the Liberals 9,981. The total farmer vote was 85,515, slightly less than half of the total vote polled. The total Liberal vote was 58,109. The Liberal vote was in the neighborhood of 13,734 but it is somewhat difficult to estimate because of the confusion in the Edmonton election.

The only Conservatives running under that name were the fighting five in Calgary, and the five in Edmonton. The total vote in the two cities averaged 4,228. However, several candidates ran under the name of independent, who were really Conservatives. That might swell the vote to 8,649.

The candidate receiving really the largest majority of the available votes was Peter J. Enzauner, who polled 2,195 to 252 by his opponent. That means a profit more than 88 per cent of the vote polled.

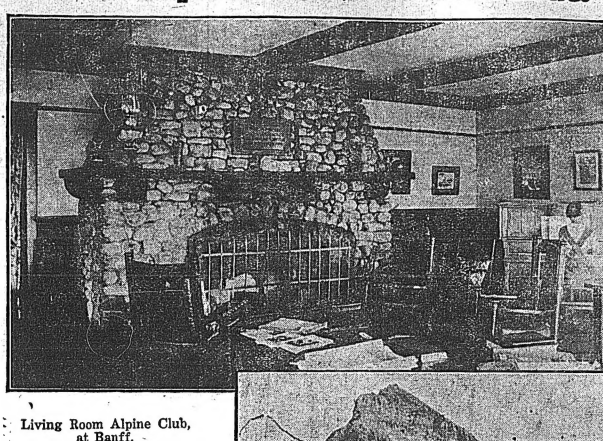

The largest vote polled in any one riding was in Edmonton, where 17,955 ballots were cast, compared to 17,187 in Calgary. But in each case five candidates were elected. The smallest vote polled in any one riding was in the notorious riding of Glenora, with 288 votes. The largest vote polled in a single member constituency was in Hand Hills with 5,235 votes.

The Alpine Club of Canada

Living Room Alpine Club, at Banff.

Of all the trails, the mountain ones are most alluring and each year they call to the members of the Alpine Club of Canada who held their annual camp this season at Lake O'Hara. The camp, known as the "O'Hara Meadows Camp" was an open Alpine Meadow at an altitude of 6,600 feet above sea level, gay with mountain blooms.

The Lake, an Alpine gem, in which bright surface, with witchery of reflection, towering mountains were held captive, with the bright green of the forests that surround the shore.

This Alpine realm in the heart of the Rockies, a realm of crags and canyons, of encircling and overhanging peaks, has a variety of charms that are never exhausted. The mountains, ranging from ten thousand to eleven thousand, five hundred feet above sea level, include the matchless picture of Lefroy glacier, the great white peaks of Victoria, the massive Cathedral Crags, Stephen, Odoray and other giants of the Rockies. Each new view beckoned to fresh delights. Below Odoray is the cabin built by the Swiss guides in which there is always a camper's cache.

In 1909 the Alpine Club of Canada opened its club house headquarters at Banff and held a special annual camp at Lake O'Hara. It was unique in that an invitation to attend this camp, as guests of the Alpine Club of Canada, was sent to the president and members of the Alpine Club, England. A party of 150, including 100 members of the club, gathered at the camp. The objects of the club are the promotion of scientific study and exploration of Canadian Alpine regions, the cultivation of art in relation to mountain scenery, the education of Canadians to an appreciation of their Canadian heritage, the encouragement of mountain craft and the opening of new regions as national playgrounds. The preservation of the natural beauties of the mountain peaks and of the fauna and flora in their habitat, is promoted.

The Club House of the Alpine Club of Canada, opened in 1909, is situated on the slope of Sulphur Mountain, 300 feet above the town of Banff. It is a broad veranda, the deep ivy-threaded valleys of the Bow and Spout, and the forest clad mountains beyond with their snow peaks glistening in the sun. From the veranda, the finest view of the mountains is seen. The Club House is replete with interest. Bowls and baskets of mountain flowers were attractive arrangements. The fine pictures of Canadian mountains were worthy of study as well as interesting photographs of well known mountaineers of Europe and Canada. The group of men and women who founded the Alpine Club of Canada, are pictured at their first meeting in Winnipeg in 1905. Included are Professor Coleman of Toronto and Mrs. Parker of the Winnipeg "Free Press." There is a picture of Sir James Outram, the first man to climb Mount Assiniboine, the Matterhorn of Canada, and many others of interest.

The stone fireplace in the spacious living room was built in memory of William S. Vaux, a student of glaciers who died in 1908. The sinking fountain in the hall was given by the late Edward Whymper, the hero of the Matterhorn—in its basin, in a bed of moss, grows the little yellow mountain rose.

A treasure of the Club House is a worn copy of the 1917 Constitution of the Alpine Club of Canada, framed, hanging on the walls of the library. Under it is the caption "Found in a German dug-out when the Canadians captured Vimy Ridge."

Several hundred communists on Friday attempted to hold a demonstration in front of the American consulate in Bern, Switzerland, as a protest against the conviction of two communists in the United States last summer.

Flying from New York to Kansas City, a distance of approximately 1,500 miles with only one stop, three five-passenger monoplanes arrived at Kansas City late Thursday evening, bringing a party to attend the national convention of the American legion next week.

Former Emperor Charles is believed to have lost the chance to occupy the Hungarian throne because of his unwillingness to order the bombardment of positions held by university students, who blocked the way to Budapest. While he parleyed with them, government troops were rushed up and he was defeated.

The possibility of any serious difference arising between Great Britain and the United States over the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments was discounted Thursday night by Admiral Beatty, when he spoke at a dinner given in honor by the Virgin Society, of New York.

Rainey Gets Three Years at Hard Labor

For Neglect to Provide Medical Attendance, Thus Endangering the Deceased Lad Wooley's Life—Evidence Not Considered Strong Enough by Mr. Justice Tweedie to Sustain a Charge of Manslaughter, As the Boy Died of Pneumonia and That Was Not Traceable to Any Act of Rainey's—Mrs. Rainey Dismissed at Conclusion of Crown Case.

Mr. Edwin Rainey and Mrs. Isabel Rainey, his wife, of Blackfalds, were placed on trial before Mr. Justice Tweedie at Edmonton on Tuesday on the charge that at or near Blackfalds in the Province of Alberta, on or about the 3rd day of February, 1921, they did unlawfully kill and slay Chester Wooley, a child then under the age of sixteen years and a member of their household and being under legal duty to provide necessaries for the said Chester Wooley, by neglecting to omit to provide said necessaries whereby Chester Wooley's death was caused. The third charge was that by the omission to provide said necessaries, the life of the said Chester Wooley was endangered.

The accused, on being arraigned, pleaded Not Guilty to all the charges. Mr. E. B. Cogswell, K.C., Edmonton, and Mr. John Quigg, Red Deer, appeared for the Crown, and Mr. W. B. Payne, K.C., Red Deer, for the accused.

Justice Tweedie made a very favorable impression on his first visit to hold court at Edmonton. He opens court promptly and in an official, lawyers and jurymen are expected to be ready to start at once.

The accused elected to be tried by the Judge without a jury, but the Judge ruled that, on such a serious charge as manslaughter, the jury must be called. The jury was called and the Judge directed that a jury be called. The jury was called and the Judge directed that a jury be called.

Mr. Payne, in opening, asked particulars of the necessities which were neglected to be provided for the boy. He said that the necessities which were neglected to be provided for the boy were food, clothing, and medical attendance.

Mr. Cogswell briefly detailed the circumstances under which the boy died. He said that the boy died of pneumonia, and that the pneumonia was caused by the neglect to provide medical attendance for the boy.

Mrs. Wooley produced the telegram which she received from Rainey on the day of the boy's death. She said that the telegram was from Rainey and that it was dated the day of the boy's death.

Mr. Rainey's counsel, Mr. Payne, asked the jury to acquit his client. He said that the evidence was not sufficient to sustain the charge of manslaughter against his client.

Mr. Rainey, who was called by the Crown, testified that he and his wife had been in the Province of Alberta for some time. He said that they had been in the Province of Alberta for some time and that they had been in the Province of Alberta for some time.

50 PER CENT. OF GRAIN SHIPPED

More than fifty per cent. of the grain to be shipped out of the province has already been sent east, according to estimates of local railway officials. Although unable to speak with great accuracy, they state that this figure is somewhat in advance of the time last year as the season of 1921 has in general been two weeks in advance of the previous year.

According to C.P.R. statistics to date, there has been shipped from the Alberta district which comprises all of Alberta and the portion of Saskatchewan from Swift Current north to Empress 15,000,000 bushels of wheat and 2,000,000 bushels of other grain. Of this 20,000,000 bushels of wheat and 250,000 bushels of other grains were shipped from Calgary division, which extends north to Red Deer, east to Bassano, south to Okotoks, and west to the border. There are at present 4,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,000,000 bushels of other grains in grain elevators on the C.P.R. in the Alberta district, and of this amount 50,000 bushels of wheat and 55,000 bushels of other grains are in Calgary elevators.

On the Canadian National, 1549 cars of grain have gone out to date from the Calgary division, and there is at present in the government elevators 800,000 bushels of wheat and 150,000 bushels of wheat. The total capacity of the elevators is 2,500,000 bushels.

Shipments of grain this year have been very good in the northern part of the province, according to local railroad officials, as the crops in that part of the province were somewhat above average. In the central part, however, the shipments have been slightly below the average, while in the south they have been owing to unfavorable crop conditions that have prevailed there throughout the year.

ADVICE TO DE VALERA

(Mail and Empire)
From the day De Valera was invited to discuss the Irish situation with Lloyd George we have not doubted that the problem would be solved and that open and armed rebellion in Ireland was doomed. The exchange of letters between the two strengthened this conviction, which was clinched when De Valera accepted the principle that there could be no conference unless Ireland recognized the sovereignty of King George. One of the reasons why we are convinced that the British offer of Dominion home rule will be accepted by Ireland is that public opinion in the United States, which for a generation has been the backbone of the Irish home rule movement, has turned strongly in favor of this settlement. Ever since the first negotiations were suggested, De Valera and Griffith have been receiving letters and cables from the United States urging acceptance of the British offer.

These messages, we learn, are increasingly emphatic now. The real discussion is to begin. Except from John Devoy and a few others of the "Pentian" kind, the Americans do not believe that Ireland needs any more freedom than Canada enjoys, and fully appreciate the necessity of Great Britain refusing to erect a new foreign power at her very doorstep. A few days ago Mr. J. W. Connolly, of New York, long a staunch supporter of the Irish cause, returned to the United States and gave out an interview in which he told of his advice to De Valera, with whom he had seen recently in consultation. He said:—

"I hate to suggest the abandonment of the republic aim, but if you cannot do better than a dominion form of government without further resort to arms, let it be a dominion form of government. I am convinced, after talking with English statesmen, that for once, at least, here are no strings tied to Lloyd George's offer and that all England is anxious to bring about peace and to count the Irish as more than friends. Lloyd George's proposition is more than Gladstone ever asked for, and for more than Parnell ever dreamed of. If it means that Ireland is to be free from 700 years of persecution and to enjoy lasting happiness, then I say, if you cannot get a republic, by all means accept the dominion proposition. I speak not only for myself, but for a number of other Americans of Irish descent who have always contributed liberally to the Irish cause. Some of Ireland's largest financial friends in America, and most ardent well-wishers, feel that if the dominion form of government is not accepted after all efforts to obtain a republic are spent, the Sinn Fein movement need look for no further financial support from them."

Another Irish-American, Harry Holm, on his return to New York last week, was given a public reception. In the course of which he attracted the British offer as insincere, but it was noted that throughout his fervid remarks he did not once declare absolutely for the Irish republic. It is obvious enough that this demand will not be pressed because it is recognized as being impossible of attainment both in Ireland and in the United States.

STARTLING FACTS ABOUT TOBACCO

There is enough nicotine in the average cigar to kill two men.

Our annual tobacco bill amounts to $20 per capita in America.

A leech is instantly killed by sucking the blood of an habitual smoker.

In 1919, 1,001,200 acres of American land were used to cultivate tobacco.

Insurance companies estimate one-third of all loss by fire to be due to tobacco.

Two thousand seven hundred Americans begin the tobacco habit each day.

The tobacco habit was begun in America and has extended to every nation on earth.

In four hundred years the tobacco habit has fastened itself upon half the population of the world.

Among four hundred and twelve young men examined by the naval enlisting officer at Peoria, Ill., two hundred and ninety-eight were rejected.

Babies have been killed by breathing the tobacco smoke with which a smoker filled an unventilated room.

In the United States, the manufacture of cigarettes grew from fourteen billion in 1914 to fifty billions in 1920.

Dr. Clay reports the death of three children from the use of tobacco paste applied to the scalp for scald-head.

"Frassic acid is the only substance more poisonous than nicotine."—M. Orfila, President Paris Medical Academy.

The ratio of the number of cases of color blindness in men to that of women is 50 to 1. Oculists say this is due to tobacco.

The Indians used to poison their arrows by dipping them into nicotine, thereby causing convulsions and often death from arrow wounds.

Statistics indicate that 26,000 cases of pneumonia die annually in the United States, that would recover were the patient not addicted to tobacco.

SOLDIER GETS DAMAGES AGAINST I. R. A.

John McCabe, a former soldier, has been awarded $4,000 as compensation for injuries inflicted by the "Irish Republican army." According to the evidence, he was imprisoned in a cage, where he was chained. A priest was sent for and the last rites administered. Then McCabe was taken outside and three bullets were fired at him. He was left for dead, but revived, and despite his wounds and wounds, managed to crawl to a stable, where he was discovered. A card was pinned to his body, inscribed: "Convicted spy. Beware, I.R.A." The Quarter Sessions awarded the damages, which, it is believed, will be levied on the taxpayers of the district.

POTASH SALTS TO HALT CANCER

Humanity has been constantly at work refining its food, until it has been gradually robbed of nutriment. Bread made of white flour lacks the wholesome elements of wheat, and vegetables are boiled in such a way that all their valuable mineral salts and especially the potash are thrown away with the boiling water. Herein may lie the secret of the cause of cancer and its remedy. Specialists have recently been quoted as blaming the too free use of sodium chloride, or common table salt, for cancer, and other ills arising from malnutrition.

THEY WERE BRITISH

The deportation of Mrs. J. Galloway and her three children from Quebec is one that should be inquired into by the Minister of Immigration. There are apparently officials of the department at Quebec that are altogether too anxious to deal with British immigrants. The rigid application of rules under all circumstances is bull-headed administration.

Mr. J. Galloway and his wife and three children came to Canada from Glasgow. Two of the children had ringworm, and while it is a contagious disease, it is one that yields easily to treatment, and is not of the class that should exclude otherwise desirable settlers.

The Galloway family was deported to hospital at an estimated expense of $800 or having the mother and children returned to Scotland. So desperately anxious were the immigration officials at Quebec to get this woman out of the country with her children that she was sent on the first steamer, although her friends were trying to make arrangements to Ottawa to allow her to be admitted into the country. The result is that Mr. Galloway is here in Canada, and his wife and two children sent back to Scotland. A little common sense and humanity on the part of the officials at Quebec might have avoided this.

WESTMINSTER LADIES COLLEGE PRESIDENT HAS RESIGNED OFFICE.

Calgary, October 27.—Rev. N. D. Keith, principal of Westminster Ladies' College, Edmonton, resigned from that position at the closing session of the Alberta Presbyterian synod tonight. His resignation was accepted after a two-hour debate. A commission will be named to deal with the situation with respect to the college, which may have to be closed.

Rev. C. W. Gordon, Ralph Connor, moderator of the general assembly, offered his assistance in the situation. The budget for all church work in Alberta this year was placed at $60,000.

King and Pope Exchange Letters

Communications have been exchanged between Pope Benedict and King George on the subject of the Irish peace negotiations. The telegram of Pope Benedict said:—

"We rejoice in the resumption of the Anglo-Irish negotiations and pray to the Lord with all our heart that He may bless them and grant to our Majesty great joy and the imperishable glory of bringing to an end the age-long dissension."

To the Pontiff's message King George replied as follows:—

"I have received the message of your Holiness with much pleasure, and with all my heart I join in your prayer that the conference now sitting in London may achieve a permanent settlement of the troubles in Ireland and may initiate a new era of peace and happiness for my people."

OPERATION FOR TUBERCULOSIS A SUCCESS

Cutting a piece of bone seven inches long from the shin of their patient with an electric rotary saw, Detroit surgeons last week grafted it on the man's spinal column, which had been chiseled out to receive the spine, and in 40 minutes from the time he was brought into the operating room the patient was being carried to his quarters by orderlies.

By this remarkable bone grafting, performed for tuberculosis of the spine, surgeon has given the patient, a man 32 years old, complete recovery to look forward to in the course of six months.

But when the patient consented to submit to the operation he had paralysis or deformity of his arm and was suffering extreme pain.

TO THE POINT

(By Joseph Lehrs)
The bigger the bubble the louder the bang. Concentration should be a part of the curriculum of every college.

The finest people in the world are those who know least about.

Be sure your bravery is not mere foolishness.

Man is like a fountain pen; useful as long as there is something in him. If we always said what we meant, we wouldn't say anything.

Put yourself on a paying business basis.

If you've just got over some sickness, give the details to the squirrels in the park and get it off your chest.

If your feet are not strong enough to carry you—ride.

Wishes wear out with your clothes. Fame often goes shabby.

The greatest faith is faith in yourself.

Feed your body, your soul will thrive on it.

Study character—your own first. Before reforming the community, reform yourself.

Don't bury yourself before you are dead.

Look yourself up when you swear, you won't be interrupted.

If you let the little things worry you, what are you going to do with the big things?

Tell your friend you haven't got it.

The Safety of Mutual Insurance

THERE is no safer investment than life insurance.

If the Mutual Life of Canada were to stop selling life insurance and just continued in force the policies now on the books, the resources of the Company would not only pay all claims as they occurred, but there would remain a splendid surplus to be distributed in the form of dividends.

As a proof of the safety of Mutual Life Insurance, let us see how the immense assets of the Company are invested.

Government Bonds.....	$7,721,631.55
City Debentures.....	3,504,151.94
Town Debentures.....	1,293,465.72
Village Debentures.....	154,631.55
Township and Rural Municipalities.....	649,283.58
County Debentures.....	151,783.61
School.....	1,676,248.68
Rural Telephone.....	1,422,201.80
Railway Bonds.....	1,617,713.63
Miscellaneous Bonds & Debentures.....	1,203,459.12
Mortgages.....	14,934,368.52
Policy Loans.....	5,335,268.01
Real Estate.....	1,059,987.73
Sundries.....	2,123,081.96
Total.....	$42,847,277.25

Among all these millions, there are no speculative securities. Safety First, Last and All the Time is the motto of the Mutual Life of Canada.

As an additional precaution, the investments are widely distributed in every province in Canada and in a variety of sound, safe securities.

Working on this careful system has resulted in the unusual and highly desirable combination of well-secured principal with a high interest-earning rate.

The prudent, conservative business man will find in the Mutual's system of investing its funds a very strong reason for the purchase of Mutual Life Insurance.

Have you a Mutual Life Policy among your assets?

SINN FEIN IS FIGHTING THE ULSTER ISSUE

ADJOURNMENT MADE: TASK NOT COMPLETE

London, October 26.—The committee comprising Mr. Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, which was appointed Monday to endeavor to find a formula that would enable a continuance of the Irish conference, after another two hours without completing its task. No date was fixed for the re-assembling of the conference, because the committee's report is not yet ready.

The Ulster question is closely connected with the question of Sinn Fein's consent to enter the British commonwealth, and the committee had to consider suggestions for meeting the Sinn Fein demands for Irish unity.

Sean McElroy, Sinn Fein member of the house of commons for Tyrone, was, in conference with Sir Hamar Greenwood, although the latter is not a member of the committee.

FIGHTING ULSTER ISSUE

Detailed maps showing the distribution of Catholics and Protestants, not only by counties, but by townships, were brought into the committee conference, and the inference was drawn that the Sinn Fein was fighting the Ulster issue before consenting to yield anything on the question of allegiance to the crown.

At the Irish headquarters an attempt was made to convey the impression that the Sinn Fein would present its report and that a full conference would reassemble tomorrow.

ENTOMBED MEN RESCUED FROM B.C. MINESHAFT

Britannia Beach, B.C., October 27.—Two miners were rescued tonight from a shaft at the 2300 foot level in the copper mine here, after being a week in their living tomb. The men, Francis Patenaude and L. P. Craig, were working in the lower shaft, when a rockslide closed the mouth of the shaft. A little food, a trickle of water and air from a tiny aperture near the top of the shaft kept the men alive while their workmates played day and night to remove the obstruction and set them free. The last rescuer was removed at sundown today and rescue gangs entered the shaft.

Craig and Patenaude are in the hospital tonight and are reported to be doing nicely.

FARMING CREDIT

(Winnipeg Tribune)

If the present situation in the wheat market were permanent and betrayed a large overproduction of wheat, and of other agricultural commodities as well, although we naturally pay most attention to wheat, we should have to face another grinding spam of deflation and a grave disorganization of general prices before the economic stability was restored.

There is no reason to believe that it is permanent. Its causes can be fairly well diagnosed. Somebody has to carry the crop, and deal it out as it is required by the ultimate consumer. The farmer cannot. His credit has had all it can do to carry it during the period when it was maturing.

In the past, the European importer has been in the habit of carrying the most of the export surplus. He always came to the rescue of the price in the primary market the moment it had reached carrying charges and was to the further months of the crop year.

This year, this source of credit is not available to anything like its usual extent. There is not merely the financial situation in Europe itself, but there is the uncertainty of exchange which reflects it. The British buyer, particularly, cannot afford to carry the surplus produce of North America and smash the value of the dollar in the process.

The whole machinery of our primary products of our export surplus, the willingness of the foreign importer to carry the charge of our export surplus, his ability and willingness are hampered.

In Canada this condition has not affected us so seriously as in the United States because of the elasticity of our banking system, but the banking system in the world founded upon private capital has its credit limitations. In the United States the banks and loan agencies dealing with agricultural products broke down altogether. They had to carry the crop while raising the crop of 1920.

They had to carry a considerable part of this in the shape of frozen wheat, and realize only at prices that would not recoup them. Then they had to raise the crop of 1921, and face the necessity of carrying this to the point of consumption, because of a hand to mouth export market, they were literally at the end of their resources.

Here the United States government has come in with a fund of two thousand million dollars available to the ordinary credit agencies "to enable producers of or dealers in such products to carry them until they can be exported or sold for export in an orderly manner."

The government's agent is the War Finance Corporation which, with $500,000,000 in hand from previous loans repaid, and power to borrow the rest on debenture, is coming to the rescue of some 31,000 banks and agencies.

This expedient will do a great deal of good. Incidentally it will help to relieve the Canadian situation, but the opinion of the farmer who suffers but of the financier who finds difficulty in giving him relief, our crops are not now being marketed in an orderly manner. If they are not then a remedy must be found, whether by series of makeshifts or not. If we are not to face a very serious national problem.

patients, suffering from acute throat or lung troubles, to get away from the cities to the pine-forest mountain resorts, and there live in the open-air as much as possible. Why? Because there is a wonderful exhalation from pine trees, which, breathed into the lungs and air-passages, cleans, strengthens and re-invigorates them.

To-day, by the wonderful aid of Science, these volatile fumes and other medicinal agents are compressed into unique, breakable tablets, known as Peps. These bring the healing pine forest air into your own home. You strip Peps of their silver wrappers and dissolve the tablets in your mouth. The germicidal air-like medicine which is liberated is carried with the breath into your arteries and lungs, where it quickly stops the most troublesome cough, relieves soreness and tightness, and soothes and heals the inflamed bronchial tubes.

Peps are the best scientific treatment—the remedy that has revolutionized treatment of coughs, colds, chills, bronchitis, and all soreness or irritation of throat or chest. 60c. box, 3 for $1.25.

THE REMEDY YOU BREATHE

BRITAIN NOT HUNGERING FOR CHILLED MEATS

Difficult to Dispose of These, So W. F. Stevens Reports on Return.

Obstacles in the way of making the Canadian chilled meat business with the British market, according to W. F. Stevens, secretary of the Stock Growers' Protective Association, "in the course of an interview with representative of The Calgary Herald on Tuesday, Mr. Stevens has just returned from the Old Country where he made a careful study of the various phases of the cattle industry on the spot."

While the unemployment situation in Britain was affecting the consumption of meat, it was not, however, Mr. Stevens cited a case which demonstrates the apathy of the average Englishman to foreign meat. At Avonmouth, he said, he saw two ships loaded with frozen beef which had been offered to the public at about half the price of the local beef and yet the authorities had been unable to dispose of it.

DESTINED FOR RUSSIA

No one, said Mr. Stevens, appeared to know where the meat would be sent eventually, but it was surmised it was going to Russia. Definite arrangements were, however, awaited from the British government, the Bolshevik army rather than the Russian peasantry.

Mr. Stevens stated that according to the Meat Trades Journal the spread between chilled and home-killed beef in London is about eight pence per cwt. to eight cents per pound by the carcass. Further, the returns from by-products in Liverpool were double those in Montreal, and the returns at the former port from each animal were $17 to $20. In Montreal they had been informed the by-products would only bring $8 to $10, while in Calgary they were worth $15.

"Under the circumstances," said Mr. Stevens, "I am unable to see where there is an advantage in slaughtering the animals in Canada and shipping the meat in a chilled state unless there is some system whereby the exporters are able to deliver it direct to the retail markets without offering it for sale at Smithfield and disposing of the carcasses as home-killed meat. In other words, the whole thing would have to be camouflaged," he said.

Asked what was his opinion of British home grown animals, Mr. Stevens, while paying them a tribute, stated that he had been somewhat surprised at the lack of uniformity. There was much evidence of cross breeding in Canada. On one farm he had noticed a white-faced Hereford bull at the head of a dairy herd. He thought the British farmer had got out of that idea a long time ago and had been under the impression that the Canadian Americans were the principal offenders in cross-breeding, but evidently such was not the case.

OLD COUNTRY IMPRESSIONS

Giving his impressions of the Old Country, Mr. Stevens, who had just returned from a tour of inspection of Liverpool, said that a city of narrow and crooked streets, and this gave the impression of a medieval town. Englishmen abhorred straight lines and right angles. This feature was noticeable on the face of the city. Seldom one saw a fence but which did not turn off in one direction or another without any apparent reason.

Of all the places he had visited, the historic city of Chester, with its Roman forum wall, encircling the city, appealed to him the most. "It is a clean and busy little place," he said, "and everything appears to be comfortable, well fed and satisfied." He stated it was a relief to get away from the misery apparent at every turn at a large seaport city and other places.

Mr. Stevens is reporting fully on his trip at a special meeting of the Stock Growers' Protective Association, which will be held at the sun parlor of the Palliser hotel on Friday afternoon next.

MESSAGE TO POPE CUTS VALERA OFF FROM CATHOLICS

Most Acceptable Explanation of Reasons for Sending Note, Two-Fold.

London, October 26.—Why did De Valera write to the Pope the message which has so dramatically held up the Irish peace negotiations? The most acceptable explanation is two-fold.

First, De Valera feels somewhat piqued at his non-inclusion in the conference delegation. Secondly, he suspects that the King's message to the Pope was another of "England's continuous efforts to enlist the Vatican in her ancient cause of denying Ireland her right of independence. When Lloyd George put into the king's mouth the traditional words of royal pronouncements "my country and my people," De Valera sees a sinister attempt to perpetuate in the eyes of the world the idea that Ireland's internal difficulties are at the root of the Irish problem, which Sinn Feiners vehemently deny.

An English Labour member of parliament of high rank, who is a Roman Catholic, of Irish descent, tells me that De Valera has, by his implied rebuke to the Pope, done an unparallelled feat, which cuts him off from all good Catholics and ostracizes him from the Vatican. Similarly the Pope has by the wording of his message to the king, acknowledged Irishmen to be the king's subjects and by implication therefore the Irish republican ideas are at an end for Catholics. What will come next, nobody seems ready to predict at the moment.

MEMORIAL HALL ANNIVERSARY

The second anniversary of the opening of the Memorial Hall, Penhold, was duly celebrated on Monday evening. This has come to be one of the big events of the season in Penhold, and the people gather from far and near to enjoy it.

Not forgetful of the memorial sentiment surrounding the hall, the first part of the evening was taken up with a program in keeping with the occasion. The company joined in singing "O Canada" with a vim, after which Mrs. Oron delivered the first address, recalling the bravery of the men who had hazarded their lives overseas. Mr. Oron emphasized the necessity of providing social services for the wives and dependents of these brave men.

Mrs. Wells rendered a very acceptable piano solo, and H. F. Kenney sang "The Desolation Song" and "Christ in Flanders." Other choruses sung by the audience included "Tenting Tonight," "The Maple Leaf Forever," and "Auld Lang Syne."

Dancing continued well into the night. The G.W.V.A. orchestra and Red Deer were warmly complimented on the music supplied for the occasion.

The bountiful Thanksgiving supper was served in the basement and unbounded evidence of the fact that we live in the midst of plenty and have a great deal to be thankful for.

The arrangements throughout reflected great credit on the committee in charge.

DEATH LIST IN FLOOD REDUCED TO THIRTY-FIVE

Body of Two-Year-Old Child Found Unharmed in Its Cradle.

Vancouver, November 1.—The death list in the flood which hited out the residential settlement of Britannia Beach on Friday night was reduced to 35 yesterday, when it became known that the two-year-old daughter of Frank Bradwood was found safe and unharmed in her cradle Sunday, under a pile of driftwood. Mrs. Bradwood is still missing and an older child is among the identified dead. The providential rescue of the little child was not reported until she arrived in Vancouver on last night's boat.

Hope was abandoned last night for the possible rescue of any more of the missing victims of the flood. Volunteer workers combined their efforts with surviving citizens of the town in the search for the 20 bodies still missing. Salvage for furniture and effects of the houses, of which all or any part are still standing, also was the order of the day. With the swollen current of Britannia creek still flowing through the area in which the residential part of the town was built, both tasks are rendered very difficult. The weather is fair and mild and the worst of the flood is over. The warm wave tends to bring down an unreasonable amount of melting snow from the mountain tops. This condition, however, is not likely to cause serious trouble, as the snowfall in the higher altitudes has not been heavy so far.

Make Good Your Credit at the Bank When Your Crops are Harvested

Your first duty after the crops have been harvested is to "clean up" advances at the Bank. The man who does this rarely has difficulty in obtaining credit.

You should give a statement of affairs to the Bank so that you may obtain the fullest credit to which your standing entitles you.
